

Tom Petty tribute band to play P.D. Pappy's

Free Fallin, the nation's premier Tom Petty tribute band, is scheduled to play at PD Pappy's, 422 E. Mulberry St. in Stillwater, on Thursday, May 28.

"Free Fallin has put together a fantastic journey through the catalogue of Tom Petty hits, from his recordings 'Damn the Torpedoes' through 'Highway Companion,' including hits from the Traveling Wilburys and the Byrds," event organizers said. "The band brings the full Tom Petty experience complete with the costumes and instrumentation that are synonymous with Tom Petty."

The group of musicians involved in this project say they chose it for the love of his music and the craftsmanship that went into the song writing.

The musicians in the band have played groups such as Lamont Cranston, Hairball, Sonik Envy, Pearl Harbor, and Soul Foundation, to name a few.

Free Fallin is striving to be one of the truly great tribute bands in the country; they have put their efforts into presenting Petty's music as it was originally heard.
